

Storms continue to bring damage to region

January 20, 2023

A series of strong winter storms that brought high winds and heavy rain to Northern California and Southern Oregon have continued to impact local areas.

At the Hiouchi Visitors Center, above, the wind knocked down a tree that blocked the parking lot and narrowly missed damaging the building.

Nearby, on Highway 199, below, another tree was blown down, blocking the road while emergency crews removed it.