A grand tradition and magical way to herald the holiday season, the DNHS music program’s annual Madrigal Dinner transports audiences back to a royal court of the Renaissance Era with music, costuming, mischief, and romance. The evening is a re-creation of Renaissance feasts held in grand halls throughout England during the days leading up to Christmas. Audience members are encouraged to dress in Renaissance costume, although not required. Choral music and poetry and theatrical and comedic performances will be presented by a royal court of lords and ladies, minstrels, court jesters, and perhaps a few bawdy rascals and wenches. Audience engagement and participation add to the fun!

The madrigal performance is directed by Collin Kirkwood, DNHS Choir Director, and showcases the impressive gifts of Del Norte High School's music program students. Community members can take pride in a county-wide music education program that continues to grow and flourish, nurturing and developing the talents and dreams of the area's diverse youth. Music education opens gateways to college and a life-long joy in music participation. Support our youth and purchase your tickets this week for a royal feast of food and Renaissance gaiety.
