

Pauline Yang to perform in Crescent City on October 14

October 2, 2022

Julliard-trained piano aficionado, Pauline Yang, will be performing live in concert at Crescent Elk Auditorium on Friday, October 14, at 7 p.m. as part of the Del Norte-Curry Community Concerts Association's "Music in the Redwoods" 2022-2023 concert season. Admission to the concert is free.

Pianist Pauline Yang began her piano studies at the age of five and won her first international competition at the age of 7 in Washington, D.C. At the age of 11, Yang made both her Philadelphia Orchestra debut as well as her solo recital debut at Carnegie Hall. That same year, Yang entered The Juilliard School where she won both the Pre-College's concerto and scholarship competitions in her first year. She earned a master's degree in piano performance from USC and another master's degree in International Relations from Tufts University. Her concerts feature complex, beautiful renditions of famous pieces by Bach, Chopin, Liszt, Rachmaninoff, and more!

More information can be found on the association's website "musicintheredwoods.com" or Facebook "Music in the Redwoods."

The Del Norte-Curry Community Concert Association has been presenting internationally acclaimed artists to the greater Crescent City and Brookings areas since 1949.

In addition to their scheduled public concerts the association also sponsors free master classes and Outreach Performances to students, as touring schedules allow.
