

Minor earthquake felt this morning off Klamath

October 17, 2019

A 3.4 magnitude earthquake was recorded about 4.3 miles west/southwest of Klamath off the California Coast Thursday morning, Oct. 17.

The U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) reported the quake at about 3:10 a.m. in the Pacific Ocean with a depth of 22.3 miles. USGS stated they have received four reports of people feeling the shake, some from as far as 30 miles away. But USGS officials said there is no threat of a tsunami from this earthquake.

No immediate damage or injuries have been reported at this time.
