

Master Welder Emerges After Devastating Accident

July 7, 2025

Back in 2015, Jager was graduating from Del Norte High School with plans to join his family's roofing business.

Jager took his off-road vehicle up to the Oregon Sand Dunes in Winchester Bay and experienced a devastating accident severely injuring his spine and his ability to walk.

Jager's roofing career was over before it began.

Family friend Aaron Herring, fellow fabricator, helped rebuild his '69 Toyota Cruiser. Jager began his own arduous rehabilitation and today walks with braces and cane but nonetheless, he walks! Herring introduced Jager to the world of metal fabrication / welding and Voila...Stoneworx Metal Fabrication was founded 18 months ago.

The road from bright future to near disaster and back to bright future was an amazing journey involving family and lots of friends.

This master welder is an inspiration to all who may have experienced a similar tragedy.

As one of the very few metal professionals in Del Norte, his services are in high demand.

For welding and related metalwork projects are available for appointments (707) 951-1617. The regular hours are not always consistent as Jager is out and about conducting appointments.-Jager married Jessica and the couple is expecting their first-born, a baby girl.

Congratulations Jager and Jessica and best of success with Stoneworx Fabrication.
