

Celebrate Earth Month by Volunteering with Redwood Parks Conservancy

April 12, 2025

April is Earth Month and Redwoods Parks Conservancy in partnership with California State Parks North Coast Redwoods District, invites volunteers to celebrate by helping restore natural habitats.

Throughout the month, volunteers will remove invasive species in some of the region's most stunning landscapes, making a tangible impact on conservation efforts. These hands-on events offer a unique opportunity to contribute to conservation efforts while enjoying the beauty of Northern California state Parks. Volunteers will receive a free day-use pass to Siskiyou State Park.

- Saturday, April 12, 9am-12Noon, Trinidad State Beach. Meet at the corner of Anderson Lane and Stagecoach Rd.
- Sunday, April 20, 10am-2pm. Big Dune- Tolowa Dunes State Park. Meet at Lake Earl Wildlife Area building, 2591 Old Mill Rd, Crescent City. Work site is a short walk from the building.

- Saturday, April 26, 10am-2pm, Sinkyone Wilderness State Park. Meet at Jones Beach trailhead.
