

Letter: So much for a computer's 'corrections'

August 24, 2019

Dear Editor: As a long-time Triplicate subscriber and a founding board member of the Lighthouse Repertory Theatre 41 years ago (1978), I was offended that you titled our theatre group "Lighthouse Repository Theatre," not once but twice.

Obviously, this was a computer error and not caught by your editorial staff or proofreaders. Please make note of this correction and, hopefully in future issues, it will not recur.

Thank you and welcome to our wonderful community.
