

A poem: ‘Finding Me’

November 21, 2019

Believe in the unseen to find the true me. Let me see the key to Faith. All you need is just to believe. Let god take the lead. Don't try to solve the mystery. Just follow the roots of the willow tree. Life has become a priority. This will lead me to be free. Now I can breathe.

Andrew Sutherland

Crescent City